Actress TAMMY KAITZ Keeps a Killer Secret in New Hitchcockian Horror-Thriller Feature Film 'THE BONE GARDEN'

Released on VOD/DVD from Alternative Cinema ebruary 2, 2016

LOS ANGELES – Actress TAMMY KAITZ is keeping a killer secret as the hot-ticket divorcee 'Laurie Curtis' in the new indie horror-thriller feature film, THE BONE GARDEN. The film comes from writer/director Mike Gutridge and is set for VOD/DVD release on February 2nd from prominent cult distributor Alternative Cinema.

THE BONE GARDEN revolves around the twisted tale of Alice Hardy (Tracie Savage), an attractive middle-aged woman who has it all: a successful husband, a beautiful house, and an adventurous cougar best friend named Laurie (Kaitz). When coeds and townies start going missing from this sleepy college town, the tale turns into a non-stop thrill ride of twists and turns, leading to surprising results beyond bloody imagination.

Kaitz was excited to star in this frightful buddy film alongside Friday the 13th's Tracie Savage, which also features Ron Millkie and Paul Kratka from the iconic summer camp horror classic and Chainsaw Sally's April Burrell.

Fresh from the set, Kaitz just wrapped the dramatic feature Grief; and up next she'll join director Mike Gutridge once again to star in his new film, Wood Floors.

Previously, Kaitz has built a stellar reputation for her work on screen and stage. Her credits include appearances on Lifetime's Strong Medicine, Showtime's Resurrection Blvd and a recurring role on ABC's Knot's Landing. She garnered considerable attention on the festival circuit for her starring roles in several award-winning projects, including the feature film The Birthday Gift, the TV pilot Kosher Pig, and the dramatic web series, Split. On stage, Kaitz won the Valley Theater League's 'Lead Actress of the Year' award for her role in The Baby Dance; and earned critical praise for her role in Infinite Black Suitcase.
